Zack Kline The Star Tribune calls performer-teacher-composer Zack Kline a “versatile young violin ace” and the Minneapolis City Pages say he can sound like, “Grappelli here, Heifetz there, Vassar Clements over there.” Zack plays with the Orange Mighty Trio and has also played Celtic with Katie McMahon, and Bluegrass with the Yonder Mountain String Band, among others. Zack runs the Chicago Fiddle Camp and has also taught at the Mark O’Connor Fiddle Camp, Rocky Grass Bluegrass Academy, and MacPhail Center for Music. Zack will teach blues-based bluegrass this year.

Linda Breitag is a fiddler, singer/songwriter, and folklorist with an M.A. in ethnomusicology. She was named a Master Fiddler by the Minnesota State Arts Board for her study and performance of traditional French Canadian music, which she learned during her years in Quebec. Linda accompanies her fiddling with traditional percussive foot-tapping (think pat-your-head-while-rubbing-your-tummy).

Jane Peck is a Minnesota dancer, educator, choreographer, and historian. Jane was voted 2008 Artist of the Year by Young Audiences of MN, and, with her company, Dance Revels Moving History, has an active performance and teaching schedule in public schools and colleges in the Midwest. Jane has taught school dance residencies for the Minnesota State Arts Board and Young Audiences of MN. She will bring A Voyageur’s Tale to camp this year.

Corey Mohan joins YFA summer fiddle camp as guest artist for a fifth round this year. He plays old time banjo and calls square dances. He also loves hands-on craft projects in the folk tradition. He currently plays with the band, Poor Benny and can be heard online at poorbenny.org. He’s traveled throughout the Midwest as a musician, dancer, and folk artist as well as on tour in Sweden and England. In past camps, our fiddlers created masks, puppets and dancing vegetables. Who knows what fun we might cook up this year!
